DEDHAM VALE & STOUR VALLEY AONB

Stretching either side of Sudbury is the Dedham Vale & Stour Valley AONB over 90 sq km of protected park land, famously paid homage to by artists such as Constable, Gainsborough and Munnings. This historic area is full of walks taking you through Suffolk's rich history and its historical wool towns such as Clare, Hadleigh and Lavenham. These towns were amongst the richest in England when the wool trade was at its peak.

Within the AONB there are many activities for families and individuals; nature walks, art classes, pond dipping, food markets, bird watching and much, much more.

LAVENHAM

Lavenham's half-timbered medieval cottages are one of the area's most popular tourist sites (there are over 320 of them!) and a well-spent day out for locals, only five miles northeast of Sudbury. Check out the Lavenham Butchers for their award-winning pies and sausages or dine in at The Great House, with its celebrated French cuisine. The town has its own farmers market on the fourth Sunday of every month at the village hall with over 30 local traders gathering to tell the region's best produce. There's a family friendly Farmers' café where you can get a bite to eat too. It's also famous for its quilted jackets, once the garb of country folk, now the highest of fashion with outlets in London's Coal Drops Yard. Stop by the original shop and pick yourself up a bargain.

Enjoy a day at the races at Newmarket, 35 miles north.

.....

Less than a 30-minute drive Colchester Zoo is a great family day out, with more than 260 different species in 60 acres of parkland, it's regularly voted the UK's best zoo. Free parking, reasonably priced tickets, bring your own picnic or eat at one of the park's restaurants, it's a great day for everyone. And you can even walk with woolly mammoths – albeit it in augmented reality!
